Our Vision

To become the leading back office service provider offering qualitative, cost-effective back office services for Accounting, Bookkeeping and Part Time CFO services in addition to other value-added services like Software Development, Web Applications, Remote IT Support, Website Design and Development, Web Marketing, Data Processing and Computer-Aided Designing and Drafting (CADD).

Our Mission

To prove ourselves as a "one-stop shop" for various outsourcing service requirements ranging from our core services of Accounting, Bookkeeping and Part Time CFO services to other value-added services like Software Development, Web Applications, Remote IT Support, Website Design and Development, Web Marketing, Data Processing and Computer-Aided Designing and Drafting (CADD). We intend to make our employees a partner of our growth story and be known as a premium service provider and employer within the industry.

Founder's Bio

Satish Patel

Satish Patel is the President/CEO of Analytix Solutions. Patel's career spans over two decades. He first started as a CPA, conducting audits for small and mid-sized firms, advising their business owners on financial and accounting issues, buying and selling decisions; as well as business valuations.

Patel is also the founder CEO and President of Sunbelt Business Sales and Acquisitions, New England (SunbeltNE) and Blackbridge Partners LLC. He also owns and co-owns several smaller businesses in New England. It was in 2003 that along with his 'techie' brother Kirit Patel, they decided to set up Analytix Solutions at Woburn, MA.

Kirit Patel

Kirit Patel has a Ph.D., MS and BE degree from Manchester University, England along with having an MBA degree from elite London School of Business.

Dr. Patel has held various senior positions with companies like Smart Storage Inc, a software company that is now a part of EMC, Gutenberg Systems, a company that provided device software to large OEM manufacturers such as JVC and Sony and Lotus Development Corporation's Publishing division that delivered financial and business information databases and ICL Europe, now the computer division of Fujitsu.

Who We Are

Analytix Solutions is a one-stop back office service provider for Accounting, Bookkeeping and Part Time CFO services. Our other value-added services include Software Development, Web Applications, Remote IT Support, Website Design and Development, Web Marketing, Data Processing and Computer-Aided Designing and Drafting (CADD) to small and mid-sized businesses.

Analytix offers cost-effective services as compared to hiring in-house resources. You save the time spent and money associated with hiring staff as well as avoid the responsibility of retention, salaries and pensions. We have our staff based in Woburn, near Boston, Massachusetts. Analytix has a quick turnaround time, with your project handled by the most experienced professionals available in the industry.

Our clients range from various industries including Restaurant Chains, Franchisers, Sports Event Organizers, Construction Companies, IT Companies, Healthcare Practitioners, Dentists, Engineering Firms, Attorneys and many more. Analytix's client retention rate since inception in 2005 is over 95% and more than 50% of our clients have scaled up their service orders with us. We are proud of the fact that our service meets the most stringent quality criteria, and is satisfying for all our clients.

We have a robust data security system for various automated checks to ensure that there is no compromise with data. We have developed a unique proprietary system called 'AuthentiConnect' that restricts access to authorized users only. The features include data encryption for all communication between the client and our data servers using the industry standard RC4 encryption algorithm.
